HIGH QUALITY PRODUCTS FROM GERMANY

AMS Messtechnik GmbH is an approved company of great tradition. We develop, manufacture and distribute high quality analogue and digital measuring instruments, electronic components for industries and gas detectors for private homes and camping.

AMS was founded in 1979. Today we are one of a few German producers of analogue meters for switchboards and apparatus engineering as well as measuring and control systems. Since 1985 we've been active in the area of gas warning systems.

AMS is known as a reliable, quick and competent partner of industry and trading. Our experienced and qualified employees and our extensive machine park allow a high vertical range of manufacture to make even small batches of custom-made devices. Each and every one of our products is made to the highest standards and tested comprehensively before shipping.

We offer quality and reliability "Made in Germany".
